Herr Erzberger, head of the German armistice commission, holds a job that few men envy. On one hand his own people raise merry Cain because he has always met the demands of the allies, and on the other it is deeply humiliating to be forced to meet Foch as a suppliant instead of a conqueror dictating terms. Foch has proved himself a man with a heart of stone when it came to listening to Erzberger's complaints against the harshness of the allies and his pleading for easier terms. He leaves Erzberger no alternative other than sign or fight and with the allied armies already across the Rhine the Huns hardly feel like starting a rough house.

A movement is being started by friends of imprisoned I. W. W., socialist and other pro-German agitators looking to the wholesale pardoning of what a circular letter that fell into our hands accidentally, terms "political prisoners." No greater mistake could be made than to turn these firebrands loose on the nation at this time. The United States, like European nations, is confronted by the menace of Bolshevism. The spirit is abroad in the land and with the men who have made their living for years by carrying on agitation to fan the smoldering fire, this spirit would rise to proportions that would cause serious trouble and bloodshed. Turn this bunch loose at this time and with their prison records as a badge of martyrdom they would soon have trouble spreading in every direction. The present sentiment of anarchy, is the result of their activities in times past when they were permitted to denounce every American institution and preach hatred. By all means keep these "political prisoners" where they are until the country has a chance to recover from the effects of their teachings in time past when the people patiently submitted to just anything.

UNUSUAL SHOW COMING TO ADA

Sergeant K. B. Warfield, who was in town yesterday making arrangements for the coming of the Famous Kelly Field Players, Friday night, Feb. 28th to the Normal Auditorium mentioned that in the army all kinds of men can be found—theatrical men, as well as men from other professions.

"Because of this fact," he continued, "when General Pershing issued a call for entertainers, men to produce shows of any description were readily found in the ranks in the various army camps. Kelly Field was particularly fortunate in this respect, as a great number of former vaudeville stars seemed to gravitate toward that camp, and were eventually organized into the first authorized amusement unit formed with members of the United States Army. For months they have entertained soldiers and they hold the distinction of being the only official soldier show which has toured American Army Camps."

"By special permission of the War Department, twenty of these men, known as the Famous Kelly Field Players, are now touring the country to show the folks at home, the kind of entertainment which has helped keep up the morale of the soldiers while training in America. The same show which the soldiers saw enacted on the "Y" and K. of C. stages in the army camps will be produced by these flyer-actors at the normal auditorium Friday night, Feb. 28 at 8 p. m. Tickets are now on sale at the Palm Garden.

INDUSTRY ROSE TO NEEDS OF WAR

Great Britain Becomes Completely Independent of German Products.

NOW MEETS ALL DEMANDS

Before the War Germany Had Control of Much Raw Material That Was Vital—Finds Way to Supply Potash.

London.—A remarkable story of how British industries formerly dependent for their life blood on Germany have under the stress of war's demands arisen to a state of complete independence was told by Mr. Kelloway, parliamentary secretary to the British ministry of munitions, at a recent meeting of the industrial reconstruction council. Britain is now first in the world in almost every sphere of industrial effort, he said.

Beginning with raw materials, Mr. Kelloway showed that mica, absolutely essential to the electrical industry, was so controlled by Germany, although half the world's supply came from India, that when the war began the world's market was on the point of being transferred from London to Hamburg. But Indian mica now can be exported only to London, and the British electrical industry has taken the place Germany once held and is now the first in the world.

Before the war the British empire produced 40 per cent of the wolfram ore from which tungsten (essential for high speed steel and in metallic filaments) is made, but so successfully had Germany captured the trade that no British manufacturer was able to establish the industry in this country. To this position Germany owed her great superiority in munitions production in the earlier stages of the war. All that has been changed. Britain is now able to produce all the high speed steel she needs and to export at a reasonable price to her allies.

Controlled Australian Zinc. Australia has practically unlimited supplies of zinc ore, but Germany obtained control of them, and 77 per cent of British pre-war supplies came from Germany, Belgium and Holland. Germany being Britain's largest supplier. But now Australia's output has been diverted, permanently, he hoped, to Great Britain.

Great Britain used to depend entirely on Germany for potash, essential for fertilizers, dyes, drugs and glass production. The war revealed that 50,000 tons of potash was going to waste here every year in the dust or fumes from blast furnace gases. That is now being collected. Germany had relied on her practical monopoly in Europe of natural deposits of potash to enable her to bargain for the recovery of her world markets. She will be disappointed. British enterprise and judicious government assistance have taken that power from her.

Machine tool production looked like an almost insoluble problem at the beginning of the war, but so greatly has production increased that before long the power of the engine will be the same as its weight in pounds, i. e., one pound per horse-power.

The British position in 1914 in regard to the production of magnetos was very grave, but, thanks to a display of grit in the face of almost insuperable difficulties, of resource and of patriotism as fine in its way as that shown by her fighting forces, the British magneto position has been established and made unassailable.

Foreign-Made Gun Sights.

The war was nearly lost because the British were almost entirely dependent on Germany and Austria for scientific and optical glass, essential to success. It is humiliating, Mr. Kelloway continued, but it is the fact that at the outbreak of war a considerable part of our artillery was equipped with gun sights exclusively manufactured in Germany. Two British firms started making sights, but the position was exceedingly serious when the ministry of munitions was formed. Recently these two firms were producing 250 a week. The sight is a beautiful and delicate piece of work, and its production in such numbers and in a perfection which Germany never exceeded is a triumph for British skill.

Before the war the British optical and scientific instrument industry had degenerated into a collection of middlemen who mainly sold instruments completely manufactured in foreign countries. All that has been swept away by the bitter necessities of war, and Britain is now self-supporting.

Her dependence on Germany and Austria for the glass for her miners' safety lamps very nearly landed her in disaster. The position was so serious that the home office had to relax the conditions as to the quality and dimensions of lamps. Now Great Britain is producing sufficient supplies of the right quality.

Before the war three out of every four electric light bulbs in use in Great Britain came from Germany or Austria. She is now manufacturing sufficient to meet her essential needs.

Suffered With Rheumatism, Catarrh And Stomach Trouble.

"I think 'No. 40 For the Blood' as a blood purifier has no equal. When I began to take 'Number 40' I was in very poor health as I had Rheumatism, Catarrh, Stomach Trouble, Lead Poisoning, and an Itch that I had tried almost every known remedy to relieve. I owe my life to it as I used to weigh 127 pounds and now weigh 148, my usual weight. I could write more but this should be enough to convince the most skeptical, and you are at liberty to use this letter anyway you desire" Geo. Klinker, Lima, Ohio.

The ingredients in "Number 40 For the Blood" are set down in the U. S. Dispensary and other reliable medical books as follows: "Employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, constipation, stomach and liver troubles, chronic rheumatism, catarrh, sores, ulcers, skin eruptions, mercurial and lead poisoning. Under its use nodes, tumors, scrofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatment disappear as if by magic."

Me and My Two Thin Blankets.

I'm here with my two thin blankets, As thin as a slice of ham, A German spy was the likely guy, Who made them for Uncle Sam, How did I sleep? Don't kid me, My bedtick is made of straw, And lumps, and humps, and big fat bumps, That punched me 'till I'm raw.

Me and my two thin blankets, As thin as the last thin dime, As thin, I guess as a chorus girl's dress, Well I had one hell of a time, I'd pull them up from the bottom, (My nighties, my B. V. D.'s) A couple of yanks to cover my shanks And then my feet'd freeze.

You could use them for porous plasters, Or maybe to strain the soup, My pillows my shoes when I try to snooze, And chilblains, cough and croup, Me and my two thin blankets, Bundled up under my chin, Yea, a German spy was the likely guy.

And, gosh! but he made 'em thin. Luther K. Kroth, Gunnersmate School, Great Lakes, Ill.

The Mother of Eight and Never had a Doctor
Reared Her Family WITH SIMPLE HOME REMEDY
An American Mother Beats Them All
There are few families in which the record of Mrs. Gustave Koch, Box 24, Kewick, Keokuk County, Iowa, has been surpassed. Not in the fact that she raised a family of eight is her story remarkable. The history of families are larger. The history of the Koch family is unique in that the mother, with all her loving care, pinned her faith to a simple home remedy and never had a doctor for her children. Here is what she says: "Peruna has done my children good. I have a family of eight and never had a doctor, only your medicine. We all think Peruna a splendid tonic." So far as we have learned, Peruna is the only known remedy for which such a wonderful claim can be made. Like Mrs. Koch, there are thousands upon thousands of mothers who place their entire dependence upon Peruna. That Peruna has merited this confidence is attested by the words

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me.

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-13 of correct answers were very low. The other, about familiar objects found in one's work-basket. All the women were winners in this. About thirty-five ladies enjoyed the entertainment of the afternoon and the lovely refreshments that followed.

THE HENNERY.

"Cock-a-doodle-do," said Mr. Rooster. "I am glad I don't belong to a hen-nery."

"What in the world is a hen-nery?" asked Mrs. White Hen.

"Cock-a-doodle-do, cock-a-doodle-do," said Mr. Rooster again. "Well, that is the biggest joke I ever heard in all my life."

"It's quite the funniest question, and it's quite the biggest joke. In fact I could go on saying it was the biggest joke I had ever heard for ever and ever so long and I wouldn't make any mistake in saying so."

"You wouldn't be making the joke any bigger by saying so," remarked Mrs. White Hen.

"Maybe not," said Mr. Rooster, "but I wouldn't be making it any smaller. Jokes don't grow smaller."

"Oh, don't they?" cackled Mrs. White Hen. "Of course they do! A joke will sometimes sound quite funny the first time it is heard, less funny the second time and not at all funny the third time."

"Oh, indeed?" said Mr. Rooster. He was quite the biggest rooster which could be seen anywhere, and if he had said he was the biggest rooster instead of talking about the biggest joke not a creature would have spoken.

"Yes," said Mrs. White Hen. "Some jokes are very stupid after they have been told more than once, and again there is a joke, once in a great while, which can be thought about and thought about and still considered funny."

"That's the kind this is," said Mr. Rooster, and he laughed once again.

"Then you'd better tell it to me," said Mrs. White Hen.

"I do believe I will," said Mr. Rooster. "Please promise me that it won't hurt your feelings."

"I promise," said Mrs. White Hen. "That I won't scold you if it does. How can a creature promise a thing won't hurt her feelings when she doesn't know what is going to be said?"

"I suppose that is too much to expect of any creature," said Mr. Rooster. "Maybe you'd rather not hear it?"

"I would rather hear it," said Mrs. White Hen. And then she gave a long sigh, a very long sigh, such as we hear a hen make once in a while. "I feel sure," she said, "that it is going to be something dreadful. I don't believe I will think it is a joke. There are jokes which are jokes to some creatures and which aren't jokes to others. The jokes may be on them and they don't like that."

"Still I haven't had a chance to let you judge for yourself whether the joke is funny or not. Now I will tell it."

"Go ahead," cackled Mrs. White Hen. And by this time all the roosters and all the hens and all the chickens

"I would rather hear it," said Mrs. White Hen. And then she gave a long sigh, a very long sigh, such as we hear a hen make once in a while. Alpha Tau Delta Dance.

One of the most unusual dances of the season was given by the Alpha Tau Delta Club last evening at the city hall. The ceiling was festooned with patriotic colors the red-white and blue. The same colors were used to decorate the windows and platform. The favors were of a most unique character. A large American flag in the center of the room was filled with smaller ones and by the pulling of a string they were dropped into the hands of the dancers. Confetti and serpentine tape was used profusely and it was hard to keep from being entangled in the tape which was soon hanging down from the decorations.

Delightful refreshments were served. Each one present received a little satin hatchet as a favor. The chaperson, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Alderson. Every one regretted hearing the orchestra begin playing Home, Sweet Home.

PROCEEDINGS OF OKLA. LEGISLATURE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 22.—The House in committee of the whole this afternoon advanced House bill 280 providing for the establishment of a tuberculosis sanatoria in the state and affording facilities for the study, prevention and treatment of tuberculosis. This bill, by the committee on Pure food, health and drugs as reported out, providing for six different institutions, but the house amended this to three establishments and reduced the appropriation one-half. An appropriation of $150,000 is to be made available the first year and a like amount the second for establishing the sanatoria, and $50,000 each year for maintenance and operation. A superintendent, to be a qualified physician, is provided for each institution at a salary of $2,400 a year.

Under the proposed law, the sanatoria shall be under the supervision of the State Board of Health and the Board of Affairs, the Health Board having supervision of the admission, treatment and discharge of the patients. On a motion of Representative J. B. Harper of LeFlore county, the House located one of the three sanatoria at Tallhina, in LeFlore county. Locations for the other two were left undetermined.

The bill provided that the State Commissioner of Health should divide the state into districts as nearly equal as possible in population and locate the sanatoria. Members were all agreed that legislation looking to caring for tuberculosis patients and an effort of state wide scope for the prevention of the spread of the disease was necessary. The only question was how far the state was able to go at the start. Representative Nesbitt, once a practicing physician, believed that one sanatorium should be for those in the incipient stage, another for those with the disease in a more progressed condition, and another for those without hope of recovery. Upon this theory the House reduced the number to three, believing that for a beginning it would be much better. That more institutions will later be established it was conceded.

By indefinitely postponing the bill by Major of the House and Smith of the Senate creating a school of mines at Miami, the House indicated its disposition to call a halt on establishing additional educational institutions. The House had just recently made an appropriation that will re-establish the school of mines at Wilburton, which was closed two years ago when the governor vetoed its appropriation. The Miami project called for an appropriation of $125,000 more. Representative Tiger of Shawnee started the opposition to the Miami school, declaring that another institution should not be established. Nesbitt endorsed the institution. Elder was also for it, but Glasser of Enid took the position that it was not good business to create another school, similar to one already proposed to be provided for. It was not a good thing, he said to "scatter the institutions all over the state."

DANIELS AND WILSON TALK BY WIRELESS

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Secretary Daniels today transmitted telephonic greetings to the president by naval radio from his navy department desk. The secretary's voice carried to the transport George Washington nearly 800 miles off the Atlantic coast.

Spiritual Princes.

There were Christians in Treves as early as the second century, and it had a bishop as early as 314. The archbishops of Treves became one of the leading spiritual princes of the early German empire. The Treves of today is a rich and active city of possibly 75,000 souls, a show city, a shrine city, and one in which the Yankee tourists should find much to interest them.

Salary of Chief Executive.

The compensation of the president of the United States is fixed by congress, and may not be increased or diminished during the existing presidential term, that is, any increase or reduction of the salary or emoluments of the office can only take effect at the next term. The original salary of the office was $25,000 a year, increased in 1873 to $50,000, and in 1909 to $75,000.

Christmas Gifts.

The custom of giving Christmas gifts is not traceable to its beginnings. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that "in Britain the 25th of December was a festival long before the conversion to Christianity, for Bede (de temp. rat. ch. 13) relates that 'the ancient peoples of Angli began the year on the 25th of December.'" The custom also prevailed in the Germanic countries.

Progress.

Material progress is of value only in so far as it assists toward the realization of human possibilities. Industry and commerce and the social conditions, which are in a large degree depending upon them, must be regarded from the point of view of the individual member of society, and if they cramp the life of the individual, no amount of economic argument will suffice to justify them.

So We Will Find It.

Happy little Bell, sitting on the floor, was heard soliloquizing in a sing-song tone thus: "And Heavenly Father will take care of us . . . if we are good . . . but then . . . we're not always good . . . and so . . . we have to take care of ourselves pretty much."—New Century Journal.

Poor Buddy!

Carroll had two pet rabbits of which he was fond, so when one of them was killed by a neighbor's dog he felt bad indeed. Not long after this the other bunny acted droopy and sick. When Carroll noticed that the rabbit was not as usual, he went to his mother and said, "I think the bunny has sadded itself sick."

DR. MARY WALKER, WAR VETERAN, DEAD

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 22.—Dr. Mary Walker aged 87 years, died at her home on Bunker Hill near Oswego at 8 o'clock last night after a long illness.

Dr. Mary E. Walker led a picturesque career. Four years were spent on the battlefields of the Civil War. The remainder of her active life was spent in fighting for the feminine dress reform and woman's right to political suffrage, in which movements she was a pioneer. She frequently claimed to have been the first American woman to attempt to cast a ballot in a legal election. Her livelihood was earned during all these years by her private medical practice and by writing.

By special authorization from the Federal congress Dr. Walker adopted male attire during the Civil War and for the half century since she had continued to wear it in civil life—the only woman in the country who ever had her rights in this respect prescribed by the national legislators. She wore a black frock coat, trousers and a high silk hat and carried a cane.

Dr. Walker was also distinguished as the only woman in history who, when a captive in war, was exchanged as a prisoner of war for a man of equal rank in the army of the foe. She was also the first woman to be regularly enlisted in an army as a surgeon.

Born in Oswego, N. Y., November 26, 1832, Miss Walker was a graduate doctor with the degree of M. D. at the age of 23. Beginning practice immediately she soon adopted masculine clothes. Her war career began at the age of 29. She volunteered her service, entering the Union Army as an assistant surgeon with the rank of first lieutenant. She dressed like her brother officers, having a gold stripe running down the trouser legs, wearing a felt hat with gold cord, and an officer's overcoat. Her jacket was cut like a blouse, and fitted loosely at the neck.

"When I had on my overcoat," Dr. Walker declared, "I looked every inch the man, and I am sure I acted it."

Dr. Walker never married. Her proudest possession was the bronze medal she wore at the bosom of her frock coat. On the back was engraved this legend: "Presented by the congress of the United States to Mary E. Walker, A. A. Surgeon, U. S. Army."

Although a pioneer in the woman suffrage movement, Dr. Walker was out of sympathy with the methods of some of her sister workers.

"Women will get suffrage just as soon as they stop making fools of themselves," she declared recently with considerable vigor. "They've got to stop talking so much and do some work. These everlasting amendments will never get them their rights. They want to state what they want and stick to it."

Everybody invited to the "sing-song" at the First Baptist church Sunday evening at 7:30. Prof. Cruz, director. 1t
